

Privacy Policy:

Please take the time to read this privacy policy carefully before using this website. Any information that is collected by me or contributed by you through this website is governed by the terms outlined in this policy. By using this website and/or its content you agree to these terms. If you do not agree with these terms, please do not use this website and/or its content.

For you to have access to this website and/or its content (free of charge and chargeable), you may be asked for personal information such as your first and last name, e-mail address, residential address, telephone number, the city and state you live in as well as your billing information. There may be instances in which you will be asked for your age and/or gender, which you do not need to disclose if you so wish, but this may render you unable to participate in those services for which such demographic information is required. You may yourself wish to contribute to this website comments, photos, videos and/or other forms of information, and by providing any of the above-mentioned pieces of information you agree to grant me the permission to store and use this information. Your information will be stored by me and/or a data management system, and this information will only be accessed by me and those who assist in obtaining, storing and/or managing that information, and those who have a legitimate need to access that information. If you choose to contribute information owned by another individual to this website, please make sure that you have their explicit permission to do so. You acknowledge and agree that I will not be held liable for any issues that may arise as a result of you sharing any personal information for any other individual. Do not share the personal information of anyone under the age of 18 on this website.

One-on-One Sessions:

If you choose to sign up for one-on-one sessions with me, you will be asked to read through, agree with and fill in a Client Agreement Form. The information collected through this form will be for my own personal information only and will not be seen and/or used by anyone other than myself. The only exception to this rule pertains to my own Continued Professional Development (CPD). If and when I seek advice and/or supervision from a more senior professional in my field I may disclose to them information about your case but never any personally-identifying information.

Programs:

If you choose to purchase any of the pre-prepared programs from my website, you will be asked to read through, agree with and fill in a Program Client Agreement Form. The information collected through this form will be for my own professional use only and will not be seen and/or used by anyone other than me. This information will be used to better understand your needs as a program-user, to track your satisfaction with the product after you have completed it, and to help me create the best programs possible for yourself and other users in the future.

Confidentiality:

Given the sensitive nature of the information you share with me, whether directly through my website or when in direct contact with me via telephone, e-mail and/or video-conferencing, you are assured that this information will be held in confidence. You understand and agree, however, that there may be several sets of circumstances under which I will be required to make limited disclosures of confidential information, and these are: a) If there is a need to protect my own safety and/or rights and those of my users, b) If there is a need to protect and defend my own property and/or rights and those of my users, c) If there is a violation of this privacy policy, terms and conditions and/or any other agreement we enter, d) If I believe that you may pose a real and imminent danger to yourself and/or others and, as such, am obligated by law to inform the appropriate authorities.

Please be mindful that when you share private and/or confidential information voluntarily through this website and/or its services and make it available to others, it may be seen and modified by others, and so I cannot be responsible for the misuse in any form of your voluntarily shared personal information and will not be held liable for any issues that may arise as a result of such sharing.
